Re: [ecn310/course-project-migration] Guidance from Professor Pearson (Discussion #2)

Kristy Buzard <notifications@github.com>

Mon 9/18/2023 11:22 AM

To:ecn310/course-project-migration <course-project-migration@noreply.github.com>
Cc:Qiong Wu <qwu102@syr.edu>;Team mention <team_mention@noreply.github.com>

@ecn310/migration Here's information to get you started on the lit review from Professor Pearson:

To be honest, I haven't found much work on North-South migration, so this lit review will be especially useful for me.

I've found some older publications describing this phenomenon though haven't read them yet. Here are some links to those papers:

- https://www.jstor.org/stable/1924411
- https://www.jstor.org/stable/555

Here is a more recent paper describing some of the patterns (also haven't read it)

- https://academic.oup.com/sf/article/87/1/95/2235423

It might also be useful to check out Leah Boustan's "Competition in the Promised Land" book (not too long!) which is available online through SU libraries. This book provides a great account of the Great Migration (South-North migration) but I think the info will still be relevant.

—